1981-82 project emphasis is Clothing. The 4-H year begins in October and ends in September.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order at 7:10 on Sept. 10 by President Kari Meier. Roll call was "A goal you want to have for next year." The secretary's report was read by Secretary Sue Campbell and approved. The treasurer's report was read by Treasurer Debbie Moore and approved.

For old business, Kris Farley told about our 4-H picnic at West Lake. New business included plans for the October Halloween party. A committee of Karen Adomat, Lisa Hinshaw, Chris Rider, Julie Meye, Jane Schrader, Sue Campbell, Becky Manock, Kris Farley, and Debbie Nyquist were chosen to plan it. We also turned in our record books. Our new officers for the next year are as follows:

President- Debbie Moore;
vice president- Ann Schrader;
secretary- Ann Ewoldt;
treasurer- Kari Meier;
historian- Kris Farley;
reporter- Jane Schrader;
photographer- Sue Campbell;
phone girls- Lori Holmes,
Laura Schmidt, Ginger Saur,
Chris Rider, and Felicia Buckley.

We also elected a set of junior officers and they are:
president- Wendy Elliot;
vice president- Leanne Leverenz;
secretary- Jennifer Schrader;
and treasurer- Dana Kelly.

Chris Rider motioned that we adjourn the meeting and Lisa Hinshaw seconded it. Becky Manock and Sue Barnes gave a talk on "Drinks." The hostesses were Jane Schrader, Jennifer Schrader and Lisa Hinshaw.

Ann Schrader, reporter

The October meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order at West Lake park at 6:30. We had nearly perfect attendance, probably because the two Buffalo Boys Clubs were our guests for a Halloween party. We played games and had a treasure hunt. Refreshments were served. The girls club had a short meeting at which we discussed interest projects we could sign up for next year; Family Night and Farm Youth Banquet. Fair checks were also passed out. The party ended at 8:30. Everyone had a good time but our leader never should have promised the boys an Attari as one of the game prizes.

Ann Schrader, reporter

to the ladies. Laura Schmidt will take care of the cards for the residents. Ginger Saur moved that we have a gift exchange and the motion carried. Becky Mannock moved that we again go Christmas caroling, Wendy Otis seconded it. We will decide on a date at our next meeting.

Folder and handbooks were passed out to the new members. They were; Janel Enstminger, Jennifer Farell, Lisa Hermann, Melissa Hiesterman, Wendy Otis, Christy Powell and Tammy Ramm.

Jane Schrader moved we adjourn the meeting and Lisa Hermann seconded it. D'dree Thomas led the 4-H pledge.

Sign up for next years projects was held before the meeting was called to order. Ila Jean Keppy from the extension office and Mrs. Campbell aided. After the meeting was adjourned Ila Jean gave us a presentation, "Who Am I As A Consumer". We enjoyed it and thanked Ila Jean for coming.

Hostess's were Brandi Radetski and Mikki and Lori Holmes.

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees for the month of December started out at the Royal Neighbor's Home. We brought the residents gifts of cookies and cards. We enjoyed visiting with them and singing carols accompanied with piano by Ann Ewoldt, Sue Campbell and Debbie Moore. Then it was back to the church for our meeting.

A short meeting was held during which leaders passed out 1982 programs and materials. After a gift exchange and snacks we went home.

Our hostess's were Ann Ewoldt, Ann Schrader, Debbie Moore and Sue Barnes. Reporter, Jane Schrader.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order by President Debbie Moore at 7:30 on November 12. Roll call, "What Would You Like To Learn This Year" was answered by 29 members and three guests. The pledge of allegiance was led by Karen Adomat. The secretary's report was read by secretary Ann Ewoldt and approved; the treasurer's report was read by treasurer Kari Meier and approved.

For old business, Lisa Hinshaw told us about the Farm Youth Banquet.

Under new business it was agreed we would again go to the Royal Neighbors Home before our Christmas party and, also, that we again would take cookies and cards

Buffalo Township Family Night

A potluck supper was enjoyed by approximately 100 people who attended the Buffalo Township Family Night on November 2 at the Blue Grass Presbyterian Church.

Special guests were Becky Bray, 4-H Youth Leader, Betty Hein 4-H Committee representative, and Lanette Hermiston, County Council member.

Leverenz; secretary - Dale Durant, Ann Ewoldt; jr. secretary - Jennifer Schrader; treasurer - David Durant, Kari Meier; jr. treasurer - Dana Kelly; historian - Kris Farley; reporter - Terry Petersen, Jane Schrader; photographer - Kevin Stalder, Sue Campbell; telephone callers -

Laura Schmdit, Ginger Saur, Chris Rider, Felicia Buckley, Lucinda Durant, Lori Holmes, and Michelle Gilpin.

Elton Farley was re-elected to a second term to Extension Council. Dwayne Durant was elected to serve as committee representative for Buffalo Township.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order by president Debbie Moore at 7:15 on January 14. Kelly Brower led the pledge of allegiance.

The secretary's report was read by secretary, Ann Ewoldt and approved; the treasurer's report was read by treasurer, Kari Meier and approved.

New business included the upcoming basketball tournament, a special nightie workshop for beginning sewers and a discussion of Super Saturday. Becky Mannock motioned we adjourn the meeting with Lori Holmes seconding it.

Kelly Brower and Jane Schrader narrated a U-Sew skit in which talks were given by Christy Powell, "The Box that Rattles"; Debbie Moore, "How To Use A Seam Guide and Different Seam Finishes"; Ann Schrader, "Adjusting stitch length and Different Stitches and How They Are Used In Sewing"; Chris Rider, "Controlling A Sewing Machine"; Wendy Stalder, "Threading a Sewing Machine"; Lori Holmes, "Adjusting The Stitch Length On The Machine"; Angie Mosier, "Care of the Sewing Machine"; and Lucinda Durant, "The Parts Of The Sewing Machine."

Hostesses were Wendy Stalder, Leanne Leverenz and Sara Suttles. The 4-H pledge was led by Lisa Bolte. Reporter, Jane Schrader.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The February meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order at 7:15 by President Debbie Moore. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Ann Ewoldt and they were approved. The treasurer's report was given by Treasurer Kari Meier and approved. The pledge of allegiance was led by Janel Entsminger.

Old business included the ski trip to Galena and the basketball team. LeAnne Leverenz's Dad has again consented to be our coach.

Under new business it was decided to donate 50 cents per girl to the United Service Fund for 4-H. The meeting was adjourned and the 4-H pledge was led by Jennifer Farrell.

Talks included "Color, Personality and Design" by LeAnne Leverenz and Sara Suttles as juniors and Becky Mannock, Kris Farley and Ann Ewoldt as Intermediates; "Fabric Care" by Jill Schrader and Wendy Otis; "Reading A Pattern Book" by D'Dree Thomas, and "Reading The End Of The Material Bolt" by Julie Meyer.

Hostess's for February were Angie Mosier, Connie James and Jennifer Farrell. Reporter, Jane Schrader.

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order at 7:15 on March 11. Junior President Wendy Elliot presided. The pledge of allegiance was led by Missy Hiesterman and roll call was answered by 35 members and two guests. The secretary's report was read by junior Secretary Jennifer Schrader and it was approved.

For old business Jane Schrader discussed the annual meeting at which we won $10 for having the most club members present. Ann Ewoldt talked about 4-H basketball and when our first game would be.

New business included our spring trip to Younkers and Stretch and Sew; the upcoming bowling party, and the rabbit show at Duck Creek Plaza. The leaders also told us about a Stretch and Sew course being offered for us which will be held the end of April and beginning of May.

Those planning on doing county presentations were asked to have them prepared to give at the mothers meeting in May, and a committee of five was selected to make small gifts for each of our mothers. They include Lisa Hinshaw, Christy Powell, Ginger Saur, Michelle Gilpin and Lisa Herrmann.

Junior Vice President LeAnne Leverenz read about our next meeting and listed the upcoming talks. D'Dree Thomas motioned we adjourn the meeting and Sue Barnes seconded it. The 4-H pledge was led by Lisa Herrmann.

Intermediate talks were "Information On The Pattern Envelope" by Brandi Radetzki; "Laying and Cutting Out A Pattern" by Sue Campbell; "Clipping and Grading" by Mikki Holmes, and "Interfacing and Its Uses" by Lisa Hinshaw. Junior presentations included "Shopping Expertise" by Wendi Elliot and Jennifer Schrader; "Pattern Selection" by Jodie Lightner and Missy Hiesterman, and "Cutting Out A Pattern" by Janel Entsminger and Tammy Ramm.

Hostess's were Laura Schmidt, Lucinda Durant and Jodi Lightner. Reporter: Jane Schrader.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The June meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees began at 8 a.m. with getting ready for our Achievement Show. Judging began at 10 a.m. We had 34 exhibitors and most of us stayed for the day to listen. It was a good day, almost everything went to fair and we learned a lot.

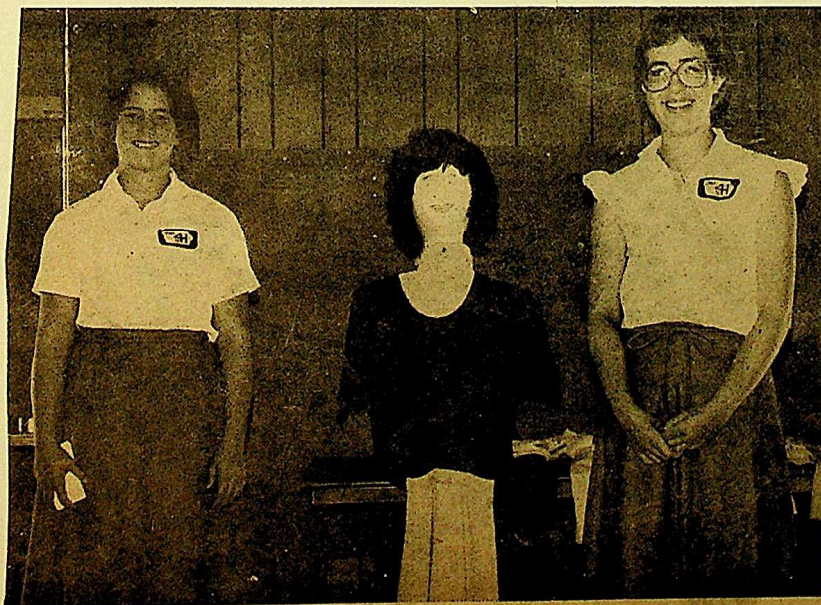

Chris Saur and Barb Moore were our "extra help" moms for the day.

A potluck salad luncheon was held. Debbie Moore and Ann Ewoldt were hostesses in charge of the noon potluck. Jane Schrader, reporter.

1981-1982 4-H Story

Our year started in September with election of officers. This year for the first time we elected Junior officers. In October we went to West Lake for a party. We invited the two boy's clubs and played games and ate snacks. We also had a bakesale in October to earn some money. Later in this same month we went to Officers Training School. We went to Happy Joe's afterwards for ice cream.

On November 2nd the Buffalo Township had its annual Family Night. Lamette Hermiston, County Council member, installed the officers. Shari Freund graduated from our club.

In December we visited the Royal Neighbors Nursing Home. We sang Christmas carols and visited with them. We also brought cookies and cards to each of them. On December 24th 9 members of our club went caroling around Blue Grass and later returned to the Church for cookies and hot chocolate.

In January our club attended Super Saturday at the Fair Grounds. We went to different workshops and Kr's Farley participated in a style show at noon. In February we had a Nitie Workshop for girls who had never sewn before. In March we participated in the 4-H Basketball Tournament and came in 2nd place. We also attended the Annual County meeting and received an attendance award. We went to McDonald's afterwards.

In April we went on a field trip to Younker's at Northpark, Stretch & Sew, learned about make-up and ate at Kinberly Smorgasboard.

Our club went to the Mother Daughter Banquet at the fairgrounds. We participated in the Memorial Day services at the Blue Grass Cemetery in May. In June we had a poster workshop to help with fair projects. We had 34 girls exhibit at Achievement show and 111 clothing projects will get to go to Mississippi Valley Fair. We went to Royals Neighbors Nursing and presented a style show of the things we made. LeAnne Leverenz and Ann Ewoldt gave their fair presentation for the people there.

At the Mississippi Valley Fair Debbie Moore, Ann Ewoldt, Jane Schrader, and Kris Farley participated in Clothing Selection and Fashion Revue. Ann Ewoldt and LeAnne Leverenz gave a presentation at the fair and received an Excellence Award. Susan Campbell and Jane Schrader gave a presentation and received a Merit Award. We were really proud of these girls.

We exhibited a total of 107 clothing items at fair. We got 10 white ribbons, 35 red ribbons, and 62 blue ribbons. Angie Mosier and Ann Schrader received Champion ribbons, Jane Schrader, Amy Hausch, and Kris Farley received Reserve Champion ribbons, and Jill Schrader, Jennifer Schrader, and Tammy Rasmussen. Ann Ewoldt received honorable mention on their exhibits.

LeAnne Leverenz received a Grand Champion, a Reserve Champion, and an honorable mention on her Food & Nutrition Exhibits. Ann Scharader received a Grand Champion on an afgan for SMA and it was selected to go to State Fair. Jodie Lightner received a Champion on a latch hook project and LeAnne Leverenz received an honorable mention on a quilling project. Dana Kelly received Best of Show, Grand Champion Purbred, Champion Int. Showman, and Overall Reserve Showman on her rabbit project. We really had a super year at the Mississippi Valley Fair.

To close out our year our club went to Scott County Park for a picnic and swimming in August. We had tacos for lunch and a good time was had by all.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees 4-H club was held at Blue Grass Church on Sept. 11 at 7 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by Ann Ewoldt and the pledge of allegiance was led by Molly Mannock. Roll call was "What Section I Most Liked About My Record Book." The secretary's report was read by Kris Farley and approved. The treasure's report was given by Mrs. Farley and approved.

For old business Karen Adomat told about what we did at our picnic and what fun we had.

In new business, we first discussed and decided to visit Royal Neighbors home Sept. 23 and show them some of our fair exhibits and entertain them with a little music.

Next we had three talks. Jane Schrader gave one entitled "How To Make A Motion Or Nominate Someone." Kathy Orman's was "Show and Explain The Historians Book." Sue Barnes also gave one entitled "The Background of 4-H and What It Has Meant To Me." After the talks we held election of officers. The 1981 officers are:

President-Kari Meyer; vice president-Sue Barnes; secretary-Sue Cambell; treasurer-Debbie Moore; historian-Ann Ewoldt; photographer-Kris Farley, and reporter-Ann Schrader.

Sue Barnes led the 4-H pledge and then anyone who knew what they wanted to do in 1981 filled out the forms with Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Farley while they also gave last minute help on record books.

A motion was made to adjourn the meeting.

Refreshments were served by Kari Meyer, Ann Babcock, and Michele Holmes.

The girls were told any record books that weren't turned in must be turned in at the October meeting.

The next meeting is October 9. Reporter, Sue Barnes.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees 4-H Club was called to order on October 9 at Blue Grass Church by President Ann Ewoldt. Roll call was "Something I Wish Our Club Would Do Next Year." There were 331 members and eight visitors present.

For old business Cris Rider reported about what fun we had visiting the Royal Neighbors Home. All the girls who received invitations to the Farm Youth banquet were reminded to send them back in. Upcoming events we were also reminded about were our 4-H Family Night on November 3, and officers training school.

A motion was made to close the meeting. The 4-H pledge was led by Julie Meye, then Halloween games were begun by Sue Cambell and committee.

Refreshments were served by Sue Barnes, Brandi Radetzki and Karen Adomat. Sue Barnes, reporter.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was held at the Blue Grass church on November 13. The meeting was called to order by President Kari Meier.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved by secretary Sue Campbell. The treasurer's report was read and approved by treasurer Debbie Moore.

For old business Debbie Moore told us what happened at officers training and Ann Ewoldt gave a report on what happened at the Fair Youth Banquet.

Under new business Kris Farley suggested that we pay 25 cents for the pictures that we wanted and the leftover pictures would go into the historian's book. Debbie Moore suggested a bake sale at the Blue Grass bank, November 22 to increase our treasury.

We discussed caroling and plans for our December meeting.

Two visitors were present. The hostesses were Debbie Moore, Ann Schrader and Ann Ewoldt.

Ann Ewoldt introduced the talks and they were: "A Breakfast Skit" by Lisa Hinshaw and Karen Adomat; Ann Ewoldt demonstrated how to scramble eggs, Jane Schrader talked about the wonders of eggs and Kris Farley showed us how to make granola.

Becky Mannock moved that we adjourn the meeting and Erin Harrinton seconded it. Reporter, Ann Schrader.

Buffalo Busy Bees

Buffalo Busy Bees went to Royal Neighbors Nursing Home to visit the elderly on September 23. 25 girls participated. We took several of our fair projects to show them and they really seemed to enjoy that. They said it brought back many memories.

We then put on a small variety show. The following girls did solos: Becky and Molly Manock played the veola; Kari Meyer sang; Ann Ewoldt played the flute and piano; Sue Campbell played the piano; Brandy Rodetzke read a poem; Ginger Saur played the violin and Jane Schrader played the piano.

Everyone enjoys going there and looks forward to the next visit. Sue Barnes, reporter.

April

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees started at the Blue Grass Church on April 20, at 8 a.m. We visited the Amish community of Kalona, Iowa. Our tour began at a Kalona restaurant with a talk about the Amish and their way of life. We visited a historical Amish village, a bakery, a cheese-making factory, an egg factory and we were invited to an Amish home to watch some noodle-making. An Older Order Amish lady prepared a lovely lunch for us in her home and we visited Country Corners, an Amish craft shop.

We ended our day with a business meeting on the bus on our way home. 31 members were present. We were reminded of the bake sale to benefit the new 4-H building at the fairgrounds; a yeast bread workshop for intermediates was discussed and our Mother's Day meeting was discussed. It was decided that Susan Campbell and Jane Schrader would be a committee of two to prepare flowers for the mothers.

We received a letter from the Extension office asking us to help in honoring adult 4-H volunteers at the annual meeting and it was decided that the officers, Kari Meier, Ann Ewoldt, Debbie Moore, Sue Barnes and Ann Schrader would participate. Sue Campbell, Becky Manock, Chris Farley and Jane Schrader were asked to escort the adults being honored onto the stage. It was decided to meet before the annual meeting for pizza.

Becky Manock, Molly Manock, Leanne Levenze and Wendy Elliot brought a basketful of fruit as refreshments for on the way home. Ann Schrader, reporter.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Wendy Elliot. The secretary's report was read by Kris Farley and approved. The treasurer's report was read by Treasurer Debbie Moore and approved.

For old business our basketball team received second place certificates. Some basketball shirts are still out. We discussed the softball tournament and our achievement show. Our club received a letter of thanks from the Scott County Extension Office for donating money for the new 4-H fair building.

There was no new business. Jane Schrader motioned that we adjourn the meeting and Mikki Holmes seconded it.

Debbie Moore and Ann Schrader did a skit called "Yahoo Yogurt." Wendy Elliot gave a talk on "Breads and Cereals", and D'dree Thomas gave a crossword on "Breads and Cereals".

Hostesses were Shari Freund and Jodie Lightner. Ann Schrader, reporter.

Sue Campbell, Heather Ives, Debbie Nyquist, Julie Meyre, D'dree Thomas, Debbie Moore, Laura Schmidt, Mikki Holmes, Ann Ewoldt, and Kris Farley attended a yeast workshop Saturday, May 16, conducted by the leaders.

Each girl mixed her own dough and shaped a loaf of bread, and made a pan of sweet rolls. They also learned to shape different kinds of dinner rolls and tea rings.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The Buffalo Busy Bees 4-H club held their achievement show on Wednesday June 24. There were 140 exhibits and 34 exhibitors. 113 exhibits will go to the Mississippi Valley Fair. Kris Farley had the most exhibits with 8 exhibits.

We would like to thank our judges, Arlene Vincent and Mary Giebelstein, for all their help and constructive comments. We really learned a lot.

The hostesses were Carol Schmidt, Laura Schmidt, Kari Meier, and Tracey Hammons. Ann Schrader, reporter.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order by president Kari Meier at 11:25. Roll call was "What ribbons you won at Fair."

Twenty-three members and 4 guests were present. The secretary's report was read by Sue Barnes and approved. The treasurer's report was read by treasurer Debbie Moore and approved.

There was no new business. For old business we talked about our record books and discussed some plans for next year. Photographer Kris Farley also brought some pictures to the meeting for everybody to look at and buy if they wanted. Kris Farley motioned that we adjourn the meeting and Leanne Leverenz seconded it.

Our talks centered on outdoor cookery. Preparing a Foil Dinner, Jodi Lightner; How to make Banana Boats, Angie Mosier; and Lighting a Charcoal Fire, Laurie Holmes. Afterwards we all made our own foil dinners and banana boats for lunch.

Dear 4-H'ers:

Thanks for the nice way you carried out the Honorary Member Initiation Ceremony at Annual Meeting. You spoke clearly and did a very nice job escorting. Thanks also for filling in at the last minute. We appreciate your willingness to help out.

Sincerely,

4-H'ers Learn New Projects

Scott County 4-H'ers spent Saturday morning learning about various projects and putting into action the motto that 4-H is "more than cows and cookin".

Two hundred club members from throughout the county converged on the Starlite Ballroom, Mississippi Valley Fairgrounds, for the first combined project workshop the county has sponsored.

4-H and youth leader Becky Kordick said projects were previously held on evenings for individual projects. "It was hard to get kids to come to evening workshops," she said. Thus the 4-H and youth committee decided to offer several workshops at one place and set aside more time for 4-H'ers to participate in more than one.

Kordick said she was pleased with the turnout Saturday.

Projects covered included wood working, folio painting, swine and meat identification, gardening, macrame, photography, garnishing foods, educational presentations, record book questions, small engines and "make and take."

The county council also led some group projects and served a light lunch.

Scott County 4-H Honors Four

Eight 4-H members were elected to the Scott County 4-H Council last Friday night. They were Steve Scull, Tami Byram, Lanette Hermiston, Nancy Arp, Laurie Mason, Brian Holst, Craig Watkins and Craig Claussen.

Scull, 16, is an eight-year member of the Butler Pace-makers 4-H Club where he's been reporter, historian, secretary and treasurer. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scull.

Byram, 16, is an eight-year member of the Duck Creek 4-H Club where she's held the offices of president, vice-president, treasurer and photography. She's received many record book awards including photography, CVA, achievement, clothing, babysitting, music, foods, horticulture, and home improvement. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Byram.

Hermiston, 16, is an eight-year member of the Blue Grass Sunshine Workers. She's been recreation chairman, secretary and treasurer. She's received record book awards for home improvement and forestry and last summer hosted a 4-H'er from Missouri. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Hermiston.

Arp, 16, is an eight-year member of the Allen Grove Tri Mu. She's been president, vice-president, secretary, historian and reporter. She's received record book awards in clothing, dress revue, woodworking, home environment and photography. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arp.

Mason, 16, is a seven-year member of the Butler Wide Awake where she's been treasurer, historian and reporter. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mason.

Holst, 16, is an eight-year member of the Cleona Clippers where he's served as treasurer and historian. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Holst.

Watkins, 16, is a six-year member of the LeClaire Happy Jrs. He's been president, secretary, treasurer and reporter. He has received a county award in consumer education. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Watkins.

Claussen, 16, is a six-year member of the Lincoln Leaders where he's been secretary and photography. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Claussen.

In addition, four adults were honored Friday. They were Merle Byram, Davenport, Vera Riessen, Walcott, Pat Drumm, Davenport and Gene Vincent, Bettendorf.

Byram recently completed a four-year term on the 4-H and Youth Committee and now serves as supervisor in the SMA division of the fair. Most recently he's served on a committee with state staff to develop a working model for the 4-H and Youth Committee. Last fall he accompanied 4-H'ers to Chicago.

Riessen has been a leader, youth committee representative and a worker at the fair. She's also served as chaperone on the Canadian exchange trip.

Drumm has served 13 years as a 4-H leader of the Sunbeams Junior 4-H club, has been leader representative on the 4-H and youth Committee and helped write the first county 4-H handbook.

Vincent has been volunteer superintendent of the photography department for ten years. He's also Field Crops Specialist for the Davenport Extension area.

A pamphlet from the Kalona Trip in April.

WHO ARE THE AMISH?

WHO THEY ARE HISTORICALLY. The Old Order Amish are the most conservative segment of the Mennonite church. They are direct descendants of the Anabaptists, a group which emerged from the Reformation in Switzerland as early as 1525. The Anabaptists felt that Zwingli, Luther, and the other reformers compromised in their stand, and did not go all the way in bringing the church back to a Scriptural foundation. The Anabaptists differed especially with the popular reformers in that they rejected infant baptism, and insisted that the church was to be a voluntary brotherhood of adult believers. They were the first to teach separation of church and state, an idea otherwise unheard of in those days. For three centuries after their origin, the Anabaptists were persecuted relentlessly by both Protestant and Catholic authorities.

The word Amish comes from Jacob Ammann, the name of an influential bishop of the late 1600's and early 1700's.

WHO THEY ARE TODAY. Driven by persecution from their homes in Switzerland, Germany, and Alsace-Lorraine, hundreds of Amish emigrated to North America during a period of 150 years, beginning soon after 1720. Today there are Amish congregations in twenty states and one province. There are no really accurate figures, but the Amish number roughly 25,000 baptized members (baptism occurring around 18 years old) in about 450 church districts. The three largest settlements of Amish (listed in order of size) are in Holmes County, Ohio, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and Lagrange County, Indiana.

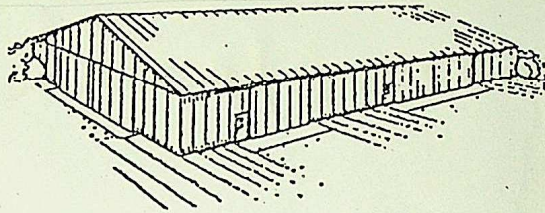

WHO THEY ARE RELIGIOUSLY.

Brotherhood. The Amish believe in a close-knit brotherhood of believers where there is love and mutual concern for all the members. They do not have a literal community of goods, but help each other voluntarily as the need arises. They feel the church is responsible to care for its own poor, aged and infirm (1 Tim. 5:4,8), and accordingly do not accept government subsidies, welfare, child bonus, compensation, or pensions. (1 Thess. 4:11,12).

Nonresistance. The Amish believe that the Christian should not take part in any violence, either in war or in self-defense. Taking the words of Jesus seriously, "Whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also," they have traditionally chosen to suffer loss or injury rather than to protect themselves by physical force. (Matt. 5:38-42, John 18:36, Romans 12:19-21).

Nonconformity. The Amish feel strongly that the Scriptures teach a distinct separation between the church and the world. They believe it is impossible for a church to maintain its beliefs and values if its members associate freely with people who hold different values, or none at all. In view of this, they have not always unquestioningly accepted all the cultural changes that have been introduced as progress. Therefore they are still driving horses and buggies, not because they think the automobile is wicked in itself, but because they believe the trend of life the automobile brings with it is breaking down the family unit and the basic structure of the community. They dress as they have for centuries, because they do not care to be changing all the time to styles designed to achieve more glamor and less modesty.

Dear Friends of 4-H & FFA

To borrow an appropriate phrase, "Thanks to you it's working!!"

At this time we have sufficient funds for the purchase and construction of the permanent show building on the Mississippi Valley Fairgrounds. The building specifications have been approved by the city, the building has been ordered and construction is to start the first week of June so the building will be available for use during the fair.

We are still receiving funds and are encouraging further contributions for the purposes of putting insulation in the roof of the building. Remaining funds if any, will be put towards the purchase of gates or other appropriate equipment to be used in the building.

We will be listing the contributors for this project in the paper around fair time in the form of a Thank you ad and will list all contributors unless instructed otherwise. If you do not want your name listed, please contact me during the day at 319-285-4876.

Thanks again for your help.

Many Thanks,

Dear Contributor:

In appreciation of your generous contributions towards our newly completed 4-H and FFA Exhibition Building, we would like to invite you to an open house on July 19, 1981 in the new building.

The open house will be from 3:00 P.M. until 4:00 P.M. with a brief dedication ceremony at 3:30 P.M. Cake and ice cream will be served.

We are very proud of the results of this fund drive and heartily encourage you to attend. We think you will be as pleased as we are!

Plan now to attend.

See you there!

1981 Buffalo Busy Bees Story

Our club year started off with a visit to the Royal Neighbors Nursing Home in September. While we were there we put on a variety show. Everyone had a good time.

November third was the Annual Family night. Guests were Becky Kordick, Carol Cordell, Kay Runge, and Mike Holst, County treasurer.

In December we returned to the Royal Nursing Home. We sang Christmas carols with the ladies and left cookies and Christmas greetings with them.

In February the Buffalo Busy Bees tried their luck at playing basketball. The first few practices didn't look hopeful. The more practice that we had, the more we looked like a team. We beat Pleasant Valley and Cleona who were tough. Our final game was against Blue Grass. They had the advantage in height and experience. As you can guess we lost, but we won second place in the Scott County B girls division.

April was the time for our Annual mother-Daughter trip. This year the trip was to the Amish Community of Kalona, Iowa.

We visited a historical Amish Village, a bakery, a cheese factory, an egg factory, and we were invited to an Amish home to watch some noodle making. An older order Amish lady prepared a lunch in her home and we visited Country Corners, an Amish craft shop.

Also in April at the Annual Meeting we won ten dollars for the most people in attendance.

June 24 was the date of our achievement show. We sent 120 exhibits to the Great Mississippi Valley Fair.

● Placements from the fair were as follows: 3 champion ribbons
6 reserve champion ribbons
7 honorable mention ribbon
1 merit award ribbon

73 blue ribbons, 24 red ribbons, 7 white ribbons.

Also in August we had a picnic at West Lake Park. As usual the water was cold.

We'll wind up the year with record books. Those memories are going to be stored away for another year.

And so, until next year we'll say good-bye.

● But when we come back there will be more achievements to write about and remember.

Suggestions for Keeping a Treasurer's Record

A treasurer has the responsibility for keeping the official record of all money received and spent. This book is designed to help you keep an accurate record of the finances of your club. You will want to keep this book in ink since you are keeping a permanent record.

As club treasurer you will not spend money unless the expenses are approved by the club. It is good business to deposit all money in a bank and pay all expenses by check.

At each club meeting you should report:

1. Amount of money spent and to whom paid
2. Balance in treasury
3. Bills to be paid.

At the end of the year the club president should appoint an auditing committee to check your records for accuracy and completeness.

This book is designed for keeping a 4-year record of receipts and expenses.

143 Attend 4-H Officer School

The Scott County 4-H Council gave instruction to 143 local club officers at a training session held the evening of Oct. 23 at North Scott High School.

The County 4-Her's participated in several game sessions and learned some recreation ideas, then viewed several mock meetings, illustrating the correct and incorrect ways of using parliamentary procedure. That was followed by a session in which members holding each office met with others holding the same office in local clubs.

Discussion took place on responsibilities of the office, with helpful hints given by a member of the county council. The evening concluded with the participants themselves holding a mock meeting, demonstrating what they'd learned during the evening.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The November meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was called to order by President Ann Ewoldt. Twenty-one members and 14 new members answered roll call by naming a home furnishing project they would like to complete this year.

The club voted that each girl should keep her fair premium money and we will have money making projects during the year for the club.

It was decided to visit and take cookies to the residents of the Royal Neighbors Nursing Home for our December meeting followed by a $3.00 gift exchange and Christmas Party at the Blue Grass Church.

Enrollment cards were filled out and projects selected for next year.

Recreation was led by Sue Campbell. Lunch was served by Shari Freund and her mother. Kris Farley, reporter.

4-H Activities

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees was held on April 7 on a tour bus on the way to visit Nauvoo, Illinois. There were 44 members and mothers in attendance.

Under new business we discussed the Mother-Daughter banquet and our leader handed out our tickets. Six mothers and members are planning to attend.

We discussed having a bake sale to make money. We voted on it and it was decided to have it at the Blue Grass Bank at 9 a.m. April 19. Next we discussed the annual meeting. We are planning on all meeting at Happy Joe's for a pizza party before attending the meeting.

Everyone was reminded that all mothers are guests at the May meeting. We decided to present each mother with a flower.

The meeting was adjourned and we continued on our trip to Nauvoo. Once we arrived we started sightseeing. After a while we took time out to eat our lunch at the Nauvoo Cafeteria and then back to sightseeing. Everyone seemed to learn a lot and enjoyed their day. The next meeting is May 1. Sue Barnes, reporter.

Buffalo Busy Bees

Bill Schurr

Shirley Newell

Marian Petersen

and Linda Niemann of the Sheridan Hustlers 4-H Club, vice president.

Attendance awards were given to Allens Grove Wide Awakes, highest percent, boys; Hickory Grove Blue Belles, Sr., highest percent, girls; Buffalo Jr. Master Farmers, most members, boys; and Buffalo Busy Bees, most members, girls.

450 Attended 1980 4-H Mother-Daughter Banquet

Approximately 450 people attended the 1980 4-H Mother-Daughter banquet at the Starlight Ballroom at the Mississippi Valley Fairgrounds on April 10.

Former 4-H and Youth Committee members had been issued a special invitation in recognition of their years of service to Scott County 4-H. Others in attendance included 4-H members and their mothers, women currently serving on the 4-H and Youth Committee, Iowa State University Extension staff and their guests, and the 4-H county council members and their mothers.

The county council boys helped serve and the girls hosted the banquet and provided part of the entertainment. Kathy Kluever and her mother presented an oral tribute to Mothers and Daughters, and Ann Wellendorf, Debbie Blake, Eileen Farehkrog and Myra Holst led activities to relax and refresh the audience. An accordeon group called the Half Timers performed several songs from the past. The group included Marian Hamann, Iva Auliff, Dorothy Auliff and Ruth Baetke.

The Cleona Clover Leaves, Senior Club performed a skit entitled "Beauty Parade" which was a humorous view of mother's involvement in beauty pageants. The 4-H and Youth Staff of the Scott County Extension Service, Becky Kordick, Carol Cordell, Donna Duncan, Penny Kreiter and Ila Jean Keppy performed with a vocal number and led the audience in singing a traditional 4-H song.

The guest speaker for the evening was Jim Olsen, an artist currently living in Durant. Olsen used colored chalk to paint a large picture, which was attached to a lighted drawing board. When the picture was completed, he adjusted the lights until they showed through the painting. Olsen ended his presentation with an inspirational message to mothers and daughters.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees 4-H Club was held at Tiffany Phillips home on June 5. President Ann Ewoldt called the meeting to order at 7 P.M. and roll call was answered by 23 members and five visitors.

Michelle Holmes led the pledge to the American flag.

We will meet at Brandi Radetzki's home Sunday, June 8 to work on a float for the Blue Grass Homecoming Parade.

Tiffany Phillips, Penny Wagner, and Kris Farley represented our club at the Blue Grass Cemetery.

Mrs. Farley announced Achievement Show which will be July 1 at St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Blue Grass. Exhibits should be to the church by 12 noon.

Meeting was adjourned and Ginger Saur led the 4-H pledge.

Tiffany Phillips and her mother explained the antiques in their home. Other talks were "Cleaning Furniture To Restore It" by Ann Babcock; "Cleaning Your Room" by Annaliese Butler; "How To Clean Windows And Mirrors" by Chris Rider; "Organizing Drawers" by LeAnne Leverenz, and "How To Clean Carpet" by Penny Wagner. Hostesses for the meeting were Tiffany Phillips and Kris Farley.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The Buffalo Bees Achievement Show was held July 1 at Blue Grass Catholic Church. The Achievement Show had 28 exhibitors and 105 exhibits. 79 of these exhibits will go to the fair. Sue Cambell had the most exhibits with eight.

Judges were Nelda Fredericks, Sonya Mess and Lori Schneckloth.

Refreshments were served by Becky Manock, Sue Cambell, D'ree Thomas and Penny Wagner.

Relatives and friends were invited to look over the exhibits. Sue Barnes, reporter.

Buffalo Busy Bees

The regular meeting of the Buffalo Busy Bees 4-H Club was held August 14 at Scott County Park. We all met at Blue Grass Bank and carpooled to the park.

The meeting was called to order by Ann Ewoldt. Roll call was "Tell What Awards You Received At County Fair." 20 members and five guests were present.

The secretary's reports was given by Christine Farley and approved. The treasurer's report was read by Sue Barnes and approved.

Old business was to discuss how our club did at the fair. We earned three champion, one reserve champion, 46 blue, 29 red and seven white ribbons. Not bad.

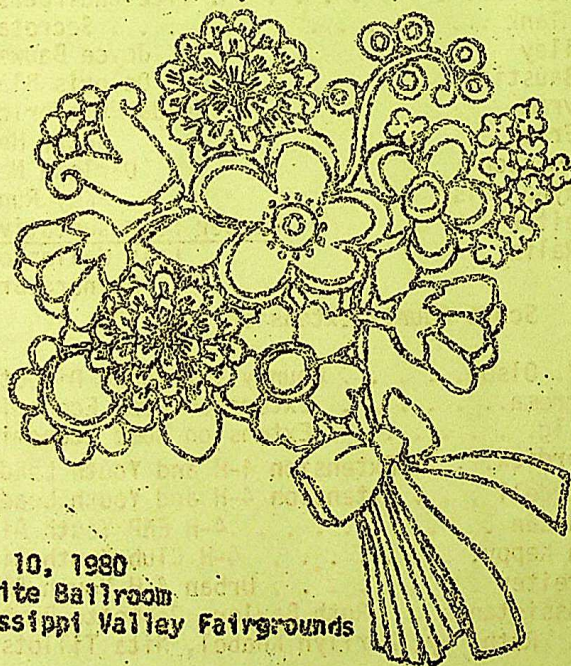

New business was to discuss record books. Mrs. Barnes, our assistant leader, explained what should go in a record book and how to organize it. Mrs. Farley and Mrs. Barnes will hold workshops for anyone who needs help. Family night was discussed and will be November 3.

We then adjourned to have a weiner roast and an afternoon of swimming.

Before leaving we handed out pictures, clippings and record book material. A fun day was had by all.

The next meeting will be September 11. Sue Barnes, reporter.

THE WEBB WAGON AND BLACKSMITH SHOP

The wagon and blacksmith shops which were housed in this stone building were operated by five Webb brothers, who had learned their trades from their father. James and Hannah Griswold Webb had been converted to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints about 1832 in New York State. They migrated to Kirtland, Ohio, then the gathering place of the Mormons, where the father and sons set up a wagon shop. Apparently the five eldest sons worked with him in this business. The sons were:

Chauncey G.,	born in New York,	1811
Edwin Densmore,	"	1813
Edward Milo,	"	1815
Pardon Knapp,	"	1818
James Wesley,	"	1822

In 1838 the families moved to Caldwell County, Missouri where they reestablished their trades, then moved to Illinois early in 1839. The father and mother moved to La Harpe, about twenty-five miles northeast of Nauvoo and established a shop. Chauncey, Edwin D., and Edward M. settled in Adams County, Illinois, and probably worked together in a shop which Chauncey G. operated at Preston. Apparently in the autumn of 1841 Edwin D. moved to Nauvoo and by 1842 was engaged in blacksmithing in the community. Early that same year his brother Chauncey G. settled in Nauvoo and about the same time another brother Edward Milo joined his brothers.

The shop operated by Edwin D. apparently had become too small and by mid-summer of 1843 the following advertisement appeared in the Nauvoo Neighbor of August 9:

LET US DO AS WE OUGHT.

The subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Nauvoo and vicinity that he has recently commenced the Blacksmithing business in his stone shop, where he will be happy to accommodate all that favor him with a call; and feeling as he does that he can and will give general satisfaction to all reasonable men, as he has a journeyman of long experience. The subscriber will furnish stock to any amount, if wished, on the most reasonable terms; at very little above St. Louis prices.

N.B. All orders from the country promptly attended to. Country produce of all kinds taken in payment for work, and a small quantity of cash will not be refused.

EDWIN D. WEBB.

This announcement, in the formal and quaint language of that period, reveals the barter system was generally used to pay debts for goods and services. The last phrase was obviously a touch of the manager's sarcastic humor.

The other two brothers, James Wesley and Pardon Knapp, appear to have been in Nauvoo during part of the Mormon period of activity. However, as was the custom, members of the Church were assigned by the Church leaders from time to time to go on missions to teach the doctrines which Joseph Smith received by revelation in the process of restoring the Church of Jesus Christ to earth in this latter dispensation. Edward M., Pardon K., and apparently James Wesley also spent a portion of the years 1843-1845 in Michigan on such assignments.

When, in the autumn of 1845, an agreement was reached that the Mormons would evacuate Nauvoo commencing in the spring of the next year, the Webb blacksmith and wagon shop became a busy place. Five of the wagons used by Brigham Young for his westward journey were manufactured in this shop, under the supervision of Chauncey G. Throughout the spring, summer, and early fall of 1846 the shop was producing wagons to assist the departing Mormons on their way. Chauncey G. and Edwin D. were present at the Battle of Nauvoo, September 12-17, 1846, and with a few Mormons still remaining in town, joined the "New Citizens" who had purchased Mormon property, in an attempt to keep the invading posse, which had degenerated into a mob of some seventeen hundred, from entering the city. Shortly thereafter they closed their shops and started on their westward journey.

Four of the brothers (Edwin D. died somewhere in the Platte River Valley enroute west) went to Utah, where they continued their blacksmithing and wagon-making activities.

THE SHOP IN POST-MORMON YEARS

Throughout the late forties and into the early seventies of the nineteenth century, various individuals operated the shops. To date no record has been found to indicate the date of the razing of the stone building. Apparently it had disappeared before the advent of the picture taking with glass negatives in the eighteen-eighties, as no picture of the structure has been found, and it appears in none of the earliest listings of pictures of Mormon structures surviving at Nauvoo.

In 1967 when NRI commenced archaeological work on this site, it was a grass field with no indication of any portion of the foundation showing above ground level. The site was located through the County Deed Records. Beneath the sod and the plow line, the limestone foundation of the walls, the bases of the two forges, and evidences of doorways were found. The present structure, rebuilt in 1969-1970 is located on the foundations of the original building.

Among the many blacksmiths and wagonmakers at Nauvoo during the closing period of Mormon occupancy were members of the Peter and Sarah Shupe family. Some of them had previously practiced their trades in the vicinity of Rushville, Illinois. By 1844 the parents and three sons had settled in the Nauvoo community, where they made wagons during the closing months of the Mormon preparations for the westward trek to the Great Basin. Two of the sons, Andrew J. and James W. Shupe, enlisted as blacksmiths in the Mormon Battalion at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in July, 1846, to participate in the Mexican War.

James reached Salt Lake Valley in the fall of 1847 and Andrew in 1852, hauling their bellows, anvils, and other tools of their trade. They were pioneers of Ogden, Utah, where they and their descendants operated blacksmith and wagon shops for many years.

The two large bellows (newly restored with oil-tanned leather), the two anvils, a bench vice and some other tools now in this shop are the originals taken from Nauvoo to Utah by the Shupe brothers. When the wagon shop in the east portion of this structure is outfitted, some of the equipment will be from the Shupe collection.

Nauvoo Restoration, Incorporated is indebted to James L. Shupe, D.V.M., of Utah State University at Logan, Utah, who

THE JONATHAN BROWNING HOUSES AND WORKSHOPS

THE MAN AND HIS FAMILY

Jonathan Browning was descended from that adventurous stock which, during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, was continuously moving westward in the pioneering of America. His father, born in Virginia in 1761, migrated to Tennessee, where he resided in three different counties during the time his seven children were born. Later, accompanied by some of them when they were grown, he moved to southeast Illinois, where he died. Jonathan was the sixth child in this family and spent his childhood on a farm in a remote area of Tennessee. Firearms would naturally be exciting to a young man where the virgin forests were yet filled with an abundance of wildlife. But guns were expensive and a frontier youngster did not have money to buy the expensive contemporary handmade guns.

While working for a neighbor, when about thirteen or fourteen years of age, he saw an unusable old flintlock rifle. The lock mechanism was broken and some parts were missing. He offered to exchange his labor for the gun, and having thus paid for it, took it home where he repaired it, made some missing parts, and soon had a "shooting iron" of his own for hunting.

During the ensuing five or six years he became intrigued with guns, learned blacksmithing, and repaired guns for his neighbors. At nineteen he saw a better gun than he had ever seen, upon which was stamped "SAMUEL PARKER, NASHVILLE." Journeying to that community, he apprenticed himself to Mr. Parker, offering to work for his board and room in order to learn more about making guns. It was tedious and tiring work, but the master soon learned that his apprentice had enough advanced skills that he offered to pay him $2.00 per week. After six months Jonathan felt he had mastered the craft, spent all his money for tools, and returned to Brushy Fork, on Bledsoe Creek, in Sumner County, where he opened a shop and commenced making complete firearms.

THE BROWNING MARRIAGE

Shortly after returning to Brushy Fork, while establishing his business, Jonathan fell in love with Elizabeth Stalcup, who was two and a half years his senior. They were married November 9, 1826, two weeks following his twenty-first birthday.

THE MIGRATION TO ILLINOIS

The Browning family was large, and being adventurous, pioneering folk, had settled in many places in Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois. Jonathan's cousin, Orville H. Browning, had established himself as a lawyer at Quincy, Illinois in 1831. These cousins appear to have been close friends and in 1834, with his wife and five children, Jonathan moved to Quincy. There, for about nine years, his skilled occupation brought prosperity beyond the economic demands of his family, and he commenced to accumulate some wealth. He was likewise honored with appointment as a justice of the peace. Jonathan had, apparently, perceived that the road to great wealth was not reached by the labor of one's hands. He had seen over the years of his short life that the surest way to get rich and outride economic depressions was to invest in farmlands near towns and let them increase in value, then subdivide and convert the land into city lots. Two years after his arrival in Quincy he commenced buying tracts of land in a township northeast of Quincy, bordering on Hancock County. In ensuing years he acquired land in Hancock, Schuyler, and Marquette Counties. Apparently he attended sales where land was disposed of at public auction by the sheriff for delinquent taxes.

CONTACT WITH THE MORMONS

Jonathan was residing in Quincy at the time the Mormons were expelled from Missouri in 1838-1839, and must have been aware of their destitution and suffering. Furthermore, Orville H. Browning had eloquently defended Joseph Smith at a hearing before Judge Stephen A. Douglas on a writ which was attempting to extradite him to Missouri for a false charge during the summer of 1841. Such an experience, widely publicized, would hardly have gone undiscussed by the two relatives. But the Mormons and their religion seem to have made no impression upon him.

In later years, in a letter to Daniel H. Wells, he related that it was at a tax sale at Carthage, Hancock County, they had first met. During the discussion Mr. Wells, a pre-Mormon settler in the Nauvoo area when it was known as Commerce, had told him about their dynamic leader, Joseph Smith and the Mormons, who were making great strides in building an unusual city and about their peculiar religious beliefs. Wells was not a Mormon at the time but urged Browning to visit Nauvoo, see the man and the community which Joseph Smith was directing, and judge for himself.

Returning to Quincy, Jonathan informed Elizabeth of this conversation and in the summer of 1843 both took a steamer upstream to Nauvoo to investigate the report of Daniel H. Wells. The meeting with Joseph Smith was apparently more convincing than the report of Mr. Wells. On August 10, at Nauvoo, Jonathan and Elizabeth were baptized and confirmed members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon). Returning to Quincy, they appear to have disposed of his shop and moved to Nauvoo, where they purchased a half-lot on the east side of Main Street, opposite the north Times and Seasons building. At this time their family consisted of nine children, ranging in age from one to sixteen years. Later that year, Mrs. Browning gave birth to her tenth child, a daughter, who lived six weeks and died. During the time of their investigation of the premises, the archaeologists found on the lot the grave of a baby who had been buried in an oak box, upholstered with colored cloth.

THE BUILDINGS ON THE BROWNING LOT

Archaeological and architectural investigations indicate there were a log house and the two-story brick house on the lot. If Browning were to open a gunsmith shop, he would need additional buildings to provide a metal-melting forge, a sand-casting box or pit, benches for lathes and vices, and blacksmithing equipment. The archaeological excavation of the site uncovered the existence of the foundations of a cellar for food-storage purposes and a cooling well to provide refrigeration, above which apparently had been a kitchen with a bustle oven. Other foundation walls were uncovered, indicating a one-story extension northward from the two-story brick house, providing perhaps a sitting and dining room or a gunsmith shop, and the actual blacksmith and metal-working shop at the north. The supposition that these additions were made by Browning is substantiated by the increase in the tax assessor's evaluation of the property during the Browning occupancy.

Browning's children related that their father refused to do regular blacksmithing and horseshoeing for anyone in Nauvoo—these menial tasks were beneath the dignity of one who had graduated from blacksmithing to gun and locksmithing. However, he would shoe horses and repair vehicles and implements for Joseph Smith, and that without charge, because of the love he had for the man he recognized as a Prophet of God.

THE GUNSMITH AND MECHANIC

Browning apparently engaged in the making of tools for the metal trades. An example of this is seen in the large pair of sheetmetal shears, on display in the shop, upon which he stamped, "J. BROWNING, WARRANTED. 1834." This would indicate it was not just for personal use. Gunsmithing, however, was his major interest. This would have been primarily custom work, depending on the needs, whims, or desires of the customers.

Family records, as well as some of his guns which have survived the ravages of time, indicate he was gifted with an inventive and creative mind. He lived in a period when the flintlock method of igniting the powder in a gun had been outmoded by the invention of the percussion cap. These, with pre-loaded cartridges, which were making their appearance, revolutionized the firearms industry. With the percussion cap and paper cartridges available, it was possible to move from the single-shot firearm into multi-shot guns. Sometime after Browning settled at Quincy, or while at Nauvoo, he invented several different types of repeating firearms. One consisted of a steel block containing four to six loaded shots which passed horizontally through the rifle at a right angle to the barrel. When properly aligned a trigger underneath the barrel struck the percussion caps and moved the slide to the next position, ready to fire at the next pull of the trigger. He also made revolving type multi-shot cylinders for both handguns and rifles.

THE BROWNING'S LEAVE NAUVOO

When friction between the Mormon people at Nauvoo and the people of Hancock and some of the surrounding counties reached a crisis in the early autumn of 1845, the Brownings were among the large majority of the inhabitants of Nauvoo who decided to abandon the city and follow Brigham Young and the other Church leaders to the Far West. Turning their Nauvoo property over to trustees to sell for them, the family returned to Quincy. Jonathan had, apparently, during the Nauvoo sojourn, retained much of his Adams and Hancock Counties real estate. Now he decided that worldly possessions or position were of secondary importance to the spiritual values and the hopes of eternal life which he had learned from the restored gospel of Jesus Christ, which was revealed to mankind through Joseph Smith.

Disposing of his holdings, he acquired a first-class "fit-out" for his large family. His wife had given birth to her eleventh child during this preparation period. Several wagons would be needed to transport this large family with food for more than a year, bedding, clothing, seeds, farm and gunsmithing tools, and tents, as they journeyed westward.

THE YEARS IN THE COUNCIL BLUFFS AREA

The migrating Mormons, having crossed Iowa during the spring and summer of 1846, made a number of settlements in Iowa, Missouri, and Nebraska. Of these, the largest was Winter Quarters (now the Florence suburb of Omaha, Nebraska), with approximately 6,000 residents. Others were scattered throughout Pottawattamie County, Iowa and eastward across the state. After the two migrations to Utah in 1847 and 1848 had departed, consisting of approximately 5,000 people, Winter Quarters was abandoned. The principal Mormon settlement then became Kanesville, where part of the present city of Council Bluffs, Iowa later developed.

The Brownings had settled on a small tributary of the Missouri, south of Kanesville. Although he desired to go west with Brigham Young, the latter had asked him to remain in Iowa and make guns to provide the migrating wagon trains of Mormons with the best modern guns for protection against troublesome Indians and to ensure a fresh supply of meat as they journeyed westward. This he agreed to do. In the Frontier Guardian (the Mormon newspaper at Kanesville, and the first paper in western Iowa), commencing in March, 1849, appeared this advertisement:

GUNSMITHING.

THE subscriber is prepared to manufacture, to order, improved Fire-arms, viz: revolving rifles and pistols; also slide guns, from 5 to 25 shooters. All on an improved plan, and he thinks not equalled this far East. (Farther West they might be.) The emigrating and sporting community are invited to call and examine Browning's improved fire-arms before purchasing elsewhere. Shop eight miles south of Kanesville on Musquito Creek, half a mile south of TRADING POINT.

JONATHAN BROWNING.

THE TREK TO UTAH

In 1852 the last large body of Mormons in the Midwest who desired to migrate to the Great Basin were prepared to go, and Browning was released from his gunmaking assignment. Packing his gunsmithing equipment and his family (their twelfth child had been born in Iowa in 1847) into his wagons, they set out for Utah, where they arrived in October and made their new home in Ogden.

At their new home Jonathan set up his shop and continued gunsmithing. At the father's workbench his sons learned the trade. One of them, John Moses Browning, secured many United States patents on improved rifles. From this beginning came the now famous Browning Automatic pistols, rifles, and machine guns, which have been used by armies and sportsmen around the world for nearly a century.

AGAIN, THIS SUMMER WE HAVE HAD A BEAUTIFUL SPECIMEN OF SINGULAR BEAUTY IN A SPECIAL ROSE BUSH GIVEN TO THE LADIES IN THE ROYAL NEIGHBOR HOME BY THE BUFFALO BUSY BEES, A 4-H GROUP, SEVERAL SEASONS AGO. WHEN IT CAME TIME TO SET IT OUT, THE BIG QUESTION AS TO WHERE IT SHOULD BE PLANTED WAS CONSIDERED CAREFULLY. IT SHOULD BE SEEN FROM WINDOWS OFTEN FREQUENTED BY OUR RESIDENTS AS THEY PEER FORTH TO ENJOY THE OUT-OF-DOORS. INSTINCTIVELY, WE FELT THAT IT SHOULDN'T BE PLACED MIDST OTHER BLOOMS, THOUGH THERE ARE MANY OTHERS OF EXQUISITE NATURE IN VARIOUS LOCATIONS OF OUR GARDEN. THERE WAS A CORNER SPOT BY THE SUN PORCH WHICH WAS BLEAK AND UNLOVELY, AND OH, HOW IT NEEDED SOMETHING TO REDEEM IT! IT COULD BE SAID THAT THERE WERE QUALMS OF INDECISION, BUT, NEVERTHELESS, THE UNLIKELY SPOT BECAME WISDOM'S CHOICE. AFTER TWO YEARS PASSED, OUR LITTLE ROSE CONTINUES EACH YEAR TO COME FORTH

WHEN THERE IS A LOT OF LOVE AND PLEASURE. THIS IS WHAT OUR BUSY

1980 Buffalo Busy Bees Story

In September our club held a Bake Sale at the Blue Grass Bank and later we went to visit the garden of Mrs. Frick in Davenport. She told us about picking dried flowers and weeds, how to paint them if you want a different color and how to arrange them. We had lunch at McDonalds before going home.

We had a Halloween party at Ann Babcock's home. The older girls fixed up a spook house everyone went through. Also in October six of our new officers attended Officer's Training School at North Scott High School.

Family Night was held at the Blue Grass Presbyterian Church in November. About 100 people attended. Attendance awards, certificates, and 3 yr. pins were given out and officers were installed.

In December our club went to sing Christmas Carols at the Royal Neighbors Nursing Home. We took cookies and had a Christmas Card for each resident. Afterwards we had a Christmas exchange and refreshments at the Blue Grass Church.

In January we had a macrame workshop. Jane Schrader and Ann Ewoldt helped each girl make a macrame pot hanger.

In April we went on a bus trip to Nauvoo, Illinois. We went through the museum and learned about the history of the area. We then toured some of the homes furnished from the 1840's and went through a bakery, blacksmith shop, newspaper office, and other interesting buildings. Several girls and their mothers attended the Mother Daughter Banquet.

In May mothers were guests at our meeting. 24 girls from our club attended County Annual Meeting at West High School. We got an award for best attendance. We met at Emeis Park before the meeting for pizza and pepsi.

In June we toured Tiffany Phillips' home and saw antiques which were explained by Tiffany and her mom. With the help of Mrs. Radetzki we made a float for the Blue Grass Homecoming Parade.

In July we held our Achievement Show at St. Andrews Catholic Church in Blue Grass. 28 girls brought 105 exhibits. Of these 78 will get to go to Mississippi Valley Fair.

Fair was in August. Our club received 52 blue ribbons, 21 red, and 5 white ribbons. Julie Meye received a purple champion ribbon on her Jr. Flower Arrangement. Kari Meier received a champion ribbon on her Photography exhibit, and Dana Kelly received a champion ribbon for Rabbits. In August we had a picnic at Scott County Park. After a hot dog roast we went swimming. We also worked on record books.
